Expect Peace Talks Next Week

Johnson Has Agreed To Viet Peace Talks

Discuss Peace

The White House just released this photo of President Johnson meeting with Ambassador-at-Large Averell Harriman, left, and U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union Llewellyn Thompson in the Treaty Room of the Executive Mansion. Johnson has announced the U.S. "will establish contact" with the government of North Vietnam. Harriman and Thompson, he had said earlier, would be his prime negotiators in talks for peace. (UPI)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has agreed to direct contacts on peace between North Vietnamese and U.S. representatives and will fly to Hawaii late tonight to discuss peace and war prospects with top American officials from Saigon.

Washington is understood to have messaged Hanoi informing the government of President Ho Chi Minh of U.S. readiness to meet for initial contacts on peace talks.

Officials indicated the first Hanoi-Washington contact would probably be between top U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats in Moscow, Vientiane, Laos, or some other capital where both countries have embassies.

The first purpose, in the U.S. view, would be to set a time and place for actual talks on scaling down the war and eventually negotiating a settlement.

The situation has developed with such speed, since Johnson ordered a partial halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Sunday night that even surprised U.S. government leaders are not quite sure what will happen next.

They voiced cautious optimism about peace prospects but appeared by no means certain the United States and North Vietnam can actually reach an agreement soon.

As if in response to their doubts, North Vietnam's Communist newspaper warned the United States today not to expect any concessions in return for a total bombing halt.

The paper, Nhan Dan, in a statement 10 hours after the Hanoi announcement, said Johnson's speech Sunday "and the subsequent acts of the U.S. aggressors have made it clear that the U.S. government remains obstinate and has not given up its sinister design of aggression against South Vietnam, which is manifest right in Johnson's limited bombing" concerning North Vietnam.

Prior to this statement—which reached Washington only early today—the Washington-Hanoi agreement to talk after years of continuously expanding war was regarded in Washington as a great breakthrough toward eventually ending the conflict.

Thirteen Dead in Wake Of Tornadoes, Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Savage thunderstorms and a string of killer tornadoes left 13 persons dead in the Mississippi Valley today as the center of a spring storm that ripped through the Great Plains Wednesday pushed east.

Twelve of the dead were victims of tornadoes in Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky. A Cisne, Ill., man was drowned in a swollen creek near his home.

Temperatures fell rapidly in the wake of the storms and cold-wave warnings were issued for the central plains.

Parts of Wyoming, Nebraska and Colorado remained isolated in the wake of a storm which piled up 6-foot drifts. Helicopters and plows began early today to search for stranded motorists and marooned ranchers.

Arkansas counted six twisters in a two-hour period and reported six persons dead. Search parties hunted rural areas devastated by the funnel clouds for other possible victims.

Four persons died at Atoka, Tenn., 10 miles north of Memphis. Ambulances transferred 30 to 40 victims to the Memphis Naval Air Station Hospital. They were victims of a twister which smashed into a trailer park at Millington, north of Memphis.

Another twister bounced across Calloway County in western Kentucky and killed a young couple whose bodies were tossed 100 yards from their demolished home.

The heavy rains caused flash flooding of creeks and left 7,500 residents of Russellville, Ky., isolated. Many were evacuated by boat. Other homes in the area were splintered by the winds which littered highways with debris and toppled trees.

Two blocks of homes and a church were leveled and five persons were injured in a tornado that hit the Vincent community west of West Memphis, Ark. Nine homes were demolished and six persons were injured at Crawfordsville, Ark.

Arkansas Power and Light Co. reported at least six towns without electrical power after the storms ripped down portions of a 500,000-volt line between Little Rock and Memphis.

Key Witnesses Are To Be Heard Today

Some 400 persons were present in the Pettis County Circuit Court room at 9 a.m. today as a coroner's inquest into the death of Steven Smith began.

The body of Smith, 14, 901

South Moniteau, was found in an abandoned quarry northwest of Sedalia Monday, after a weekend probe by Sheriff Emmett Fairfax into reports of a fight at the quarry Saturday night.

Pettis County Coroner Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher called the inquest after the body was removed from the quarry by divers Monday.

At the inquest this morning, Dr. R. H. Owings, pathologist at Bothwell Hospital, testified that he had found death was by asphyxiation by drowning. Smith was alive when he entered the water, the doctor said. He also testified that he could not determine whether or not Smith was conscious when his body entered the water.

During the morning the jury, consisting of William H. Hall, John Ellison, John Boul, Robert McDonald, Harry Naugel and Raymond Wassen, heard testimony by several witnesses present at the quarry last Saturday evening, and more are to be heard this afternoon.

Swifter Action Is Required

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said Wednesday night survival of the states depends on their willingness to meet their state and local problems instead of turning them over to the federal government.

Speaking at a Florissant Valley Community College lecture series, the governor said "the void left by the states was filled with the exercise of federal power."

"The states were slow to act in highway construction, in providing uniformity among the states for educational standards and in caring for the sick and the elderly," he said.

"The problems that towns and counties feared to tackle were bucked upstairs to the state government. And the problems which states ignored or were afraid to face were soon met through federal action."

"What I am aiming for in Missouri, and what I hope to see develop in other states, is a sound structure of state, city and county government which can solve existing problems. I want to see the improvement of these governmental units to the point that they are self sufficient and able to provide creative responses to the needs of the people."

"There is no need for the state to have to dictate, as it does now in many instances, the rules for a community to follow on a strictly local matter. There is no need for the federal government to dictate answers for problems which lie strictly within a state."

Hearnes, who has disagreed in the past with many federal interferences in local problems, appealed for the people to take an interest in their government.

Northside Meeting

The Northside Citizens Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at the Masonic Temple at Pettis and Lamine according to Homer Marshall, president. One of the topics of business at the meeting will be the public housing issue.

Actual Peace Is No Closer

LONDON (AP) — Soviet informants said today they expect preliminary Vietnam peace talks to begin in Moscow next week. They said the North Vietnamese have already assured the United States privately they will launch no major offensive if all American bombing attacks are halted.

The sources, who cannot be identified by name, said Hanoi already has begun lifting the siege of Khe Sanh as a sign of its intentions.

None of these statements could be confirmed in official Western circles.

The officials cautioned, however, against expecting an early end to the peace negotiations. They said they expected them to go for months.

Other sources recalled that 12,000 Americans were killed in Korea while truce talks were going on.

The Russian informants said Moscow was not consulted by Hanoi before Wednesday's conditional acceptance of President Johnson's call for peace talks.

They said that in view of Peking's present relatively low influence in the North Vietnamese capital, they did not believe the Red Chinese were consulted either.

"What you Americans seem to find hard to realize is that North Vietnam is a sovereign nation," one Russian said.

They said they expected the preliminary talks to get under way "very quickly—probably next week."

They added that they believed the only possible sites for such talks were Moscow or Paris and that the Soviet capital has a 60-40 chance of being chosen.

Moscow is the only capital in the world with American, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong diplomatic representatives. Paris has a diplomatic mission from Hanoi but no official representative of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Meet Failure in Space

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The third stage of America's Saturn 5 super-rocket failed to restart in space today after two second stage engines quit earlier in a troubled flight that could delay the country's man-to-the-moon program.

Despite the premature shutdown of the second stage engines, other engines took up the slack and the world's most powerful rocket shoved into orbit the satellite weighing 132 tons. The satellite consists of an unmanned, 28-ton, Apollo 6 moon ship, a dummy lunar landing capsule and the third stage.

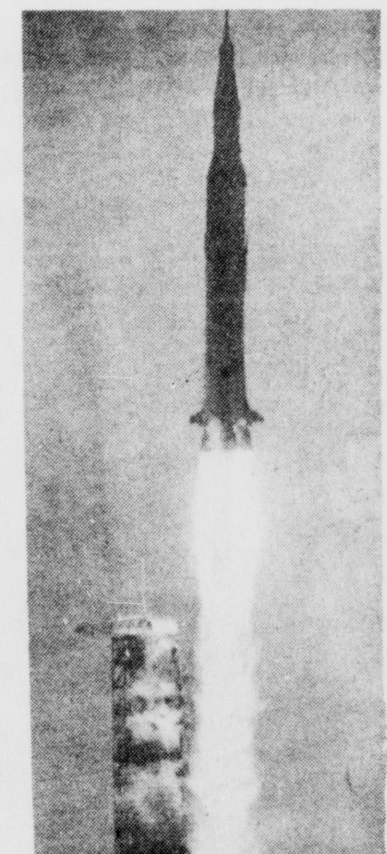

In all, the Saturn 5 has 11 engines: five first stage, five second stage and one third stage engine.

The rocket propelled the huge load into orbit but it was the wrong orbit—110 miles too high.

If the Apollo 6 had carried men, a mission to the moon would have been aborted, said an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. After the malfunction of the second stage, too little fuel remained to propel the craft outward to the moon.

And he said the later failure of the third stage to restart would have prevented a moon shot in any event.

The restart was attempted more than three hours into the flight after the satellite had circled the globe twice.

Successful Takeoff

"We did not get a re-ignition," the mission control center reported.

Controllers immediately ordered the Apollo 6 separated from the third stage. This was done successfully. Then the space craft engine—instead of the dead third stage engine—was called upon to propel the craft to a point 13,832 miles in space.

From this height, the space craft will make a flaming dive back to the atmosphere at lunar return speed of nearly 25,000 miles an hour. If all goes well it will parachute to a landing in the Pacific Ocean about 390 miles northwest of Hawaii about 4:50 p.m., EST.

The aircraft carrier Okinawa waited there to recover the craft.

After the premature shutdown of the second stage engines, the Apollo program manager, Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips said the flight proved that liquid rocket engines can fail, "but not catastrophically."

"If we had lost two engines like this on a lunar mission, we would not have conducted the mission. We would go to the alternate earth orbit mission."

The main goal of the flight was to establish whether the Saturn 5 could safely orbit an Apollo spacecraft. Because it did achieve this goal—even though the orbit was wrong—there still is a possibility the next Saturn 5 will be manned.

Light Resistance Meets U.S. Troops

SAIGON (AP)—Advance elements of a big U.S. relief force drove through light enemy artillery and mortar fire today to within a half mile of the besieged Marine combat base at Khe Sanh.

With resistance continuing light, Soviet informants in London said the North Vietnamese were lifting the long siege of Khe Sanh as evidence of good intentions in preliminary peace talks.

However, about 80 rounds of enemy artillery and mortar fire hit Khe Sanh and Marines striking out from the base were reported engaged in fighting with the North Vietnamese in the hills to the west.

A U.S. spokesman said he expected some of the 20,000-man relief force to link up with the 6,000 Marines inside Khe Sanh by nightfall for the first breakthrough in the siege of the fortress, now in its 11th week.

Marines and helicopter-borne air cavalrymen were pushing in three prongs toward the base. Reports from the field said they were encountering sporadic artillery and mortar fire but little other resistance.

A company from the 3rd Marine Division was the spearhead of the drive. After advancing along Highway 9 on the northeast, helicopters landed them northwest of the base and they were reported about half a mile from the barbed-wire perimeter.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division pushed up from south of the base and were reported within 2.5 miles of their goal by midafternoon.

The bulk of the relief force, more Marine infantrymen and an engineer convoy, found the going tougher as they struggled west along the long-closed Highway 9. They had to stop repeatedly while engineers repaired bridges and the road.

By noon today they were 5.5 miles east of the base.

"Khe Sanh or Bust," said a sign on an equipment trailer.

Senior U.S. officers were puzzled by the lack of resistance the relief force was meeting. They had expected savage fighting.

That could still be in store. The relief force had come within range of big North Vietnamese artillery and rocket guns in the Co Roc mountains to the west inside Laos, and the troops still had to cross the main enemy trench lines which

Sedalian on Vessel When Tragedy Hit

Raymond P. Woolery, a Sedalian who was aboard the ill-fated aircraft carrier Forrestal when that ship suffered heavy damage from explosions and fire in the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam last July 29, has returned home.

Woolery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Woolery, 1306 East Seventh, arrived home Wednesday night and today is spending his first day around Sedalia in two years. "You bet I am glad to be out," he said after completing his four-year Navy tour.

In recounting the incident aboard the carrier, Woolery said he heard the first explosions and was sent immediately to the hangar base to assist in moving 1,000-pound bombs and missiles to the ship's side and dumping the explosives overboard.

New Hearings Scheduled On Ill-Fated US Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says he'll hold a new round of hearings on the problem-plagued, multi-billion-dollar F111 war plane, grounded by the Air Force and well on its way toward being junked as a Navy weapon.

The promise of more public hearings before the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by the Arkansas Democrat—who characterized the F111 program as a "tragic blunder"—closely followed these developments:

—Two of the first six Air Force F111As sent to Southeast Asia for combat duty were lost within a week after entering the Vietnam war, perhaps handing the Communists the fruits of U.S. research that alone cost $1 billion.

—The Senate Armed Services Committee voted to junk the Navy's F111B program on which $400 million reportedly has been spent. It approved instead $287 million to start work on a substitute plane.

If Congress goes along as expected, the action means that the F111—originally known as the TFX—will become exclusively an Air Force fighter-bomber and not the joint Air Force-Navy plane that Robert S. McNamara ordered and insisted upon throughout his tenure as secretary of Defense.

There is no independent estimate of how much cancellation of the Navy's F111B program would cost because the Pentagon has refused to provide cost figures on the overall F111 project.

However, McClellan said in an interview that estimated costs have tripled in the past five years, and now stand at more than $12 billion.

McClellan would not say when his new hearings would start, although he said they were planned before—and would not be limited to—loss of the two Air Force F111As. But the ranking Republican member of the subcommittee, Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, has made it plain that he questions the wisdom of the decision to deploy the planes in combat.

Six of the 1,500 mile-an-hour jets reached Thailand March 17 in a secrecy-cloaked operation with the code name of "Harvest Reaper." On March 26 the planes began flying combat missions.

Four days later one of the jets vanished. North Vietnam claimed it was shot down. U.S. officials have said only that the plane and its two crewmen are missing.

Then, last Sunday, the Air Force announced that a second F111A had crashed "after an in-flight emergency." Both crewmen were rescued. The four remaining F111As were grounded as the Pentagon dispatched a special investigating team to Thailand.

In a preview of what can be expected at the new hearings, Mundt charged that the normal Air Force test program was not completed before the six jets were sent into combat.

During stateside tests last January pilots discovered "serious faults" in the F111A, Mundt said, "yet only two months later the airplanes were sent to Vietnam with these faults unremedied."

Mundt also said current plans call for 160 F111As to be built before all planned modifications are incorporated, and urged that production be halted.

"If this drastic step is not taken," Mundt said, "then we will truly be committing another billion dollar blunder in this TFX program which already has cost the American taxpayer many, many fruitless billions of dollars."

Mundt called for renewal of the subcommittee's hearings. Asked about this, McClellan said: "That will be done in due course but I won't say just when." He said subcommittee investigators have continued the inquiry while hearings were in recess.

McClellan charged that McNamara made a "tragic blunder" by attempting to force upon the services "a weapon so useless it would imperil the lives of the pilots and the security of the country."

Since McNamara left the Pentagon Feb. 29 there have been indications that McClellan would soon end his often stormy five-year inquiry.

The 72-year-old senator has told friends he believes he was vindicated when the Armed Services Committee voted 11 to 2 to deny the Navy's request for $588 million for the F111B.

Four major manufacturers—McDonnell Douglas Corp., Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., and North American Aviation Inc.—already have submitted designs for the substitute. General Dynamics Corp., which holds the prime F111 contract, has not.

Shortly after McNamara awarded a contract to General Dynamics in 1962 to develop a multiservice plane, McClellan began his investigation. At first the senator concentrated on why McNamara overruled the recommendation of Defense Department experts that the contract go to Boeing Co. In the ensuing years, the probe has centered on problems encountered in development of the F111.

Cost has been one of the big headaches. At first the Pentagon estimated it would cost $6 billion to produce 1,700 planes. This included $711 million for research. McClellan now gives these figures: More than $12 billion to build 1,300 planes. The Senator says this includes $2 billion for research, half of which has been spent.

On a per plane basis, costs have risen from $2.8 million each to $6 million for the Air Force version and $8 million for the Navy one. By comparison, F4 Phantom jets cost $2.5 million each.

Weight of the F111B was another persistent problem. Last fall, the Navy craft was eight tons overweight when fully loaded, making it unsuitable for use on carriers, impairing its range and giving it less time over targets.

While weight was not as important in the Air Force version, critics said the F111A still had performance problems when it was sent to Southeast Asia.

"Both the Air Force plane and the Navy plane have been crucified on the cross of commonality," McClellan said. "The plane has been engineered at the desk of the secretary of defense and not at the workshop of the qualified engineers and technical experts."

THE FOOD DOLLAR

The food dollar is money spent for food eaten at home or away from home in restaurants, office or plant cafeterias, from vending machines or in school lunch room, etc.

Approximately one-fourth of our food dollars—on a national average—is spent for meals purchased away from home. The other three-fourths buy the food served at home.

The food dollar is not the money spent at the food store for household supplies, health and beauty aids, housewares, clothing or magazines. It is not usually considered to be the money spent for soft drinks, chewing gum, tobacco, alcoholic beverages, or pet food.

HOW YOU SPEND

Are you the average spender for food? If so, when you go to the super-market you spend 77 cents of your food dollar for food and 23 cents for non-food. The non-food includes all purchases made which get changed to food but really is not eaten such as laundry supplies. The food list includes meat, fruit and vegetables and dairy products.

The distribution is as follows: Meat — Beef is the best seller in the meat department. Fresh pork claims second place in dollars spent for meat. Poultry is third.

Frozen and canned meats (except hams) are included in the grocery and frozen foods total.

Produce — Potatoes remain the No. 1 fresh vegetable in dollars spent, but we're buying an increasing quantity in processed form. Citrus fruits, bananas and apples, in that order, lead in fresh fruit sales.

Dairy — Milk claims the greatest share of the dairy dollar. Eggs are second in dollar sales, followed by cheese, ice cream, and butter. While more pounds of margarine are sold, a few more dollars are spent for butter. The dairy product group also includes chilled biscuits and doughs, chilled, noncarbonated drinks, and cold salads.

Frozen Foods — Frozen fish, poultry, and other meats, being generally most costly, take more dollars than other kinds of frozen food. In terms of individual packages sold, frozen vegetables and frozen concentrated orange juice are runaway best sellers, followed by pot pies and dinner.

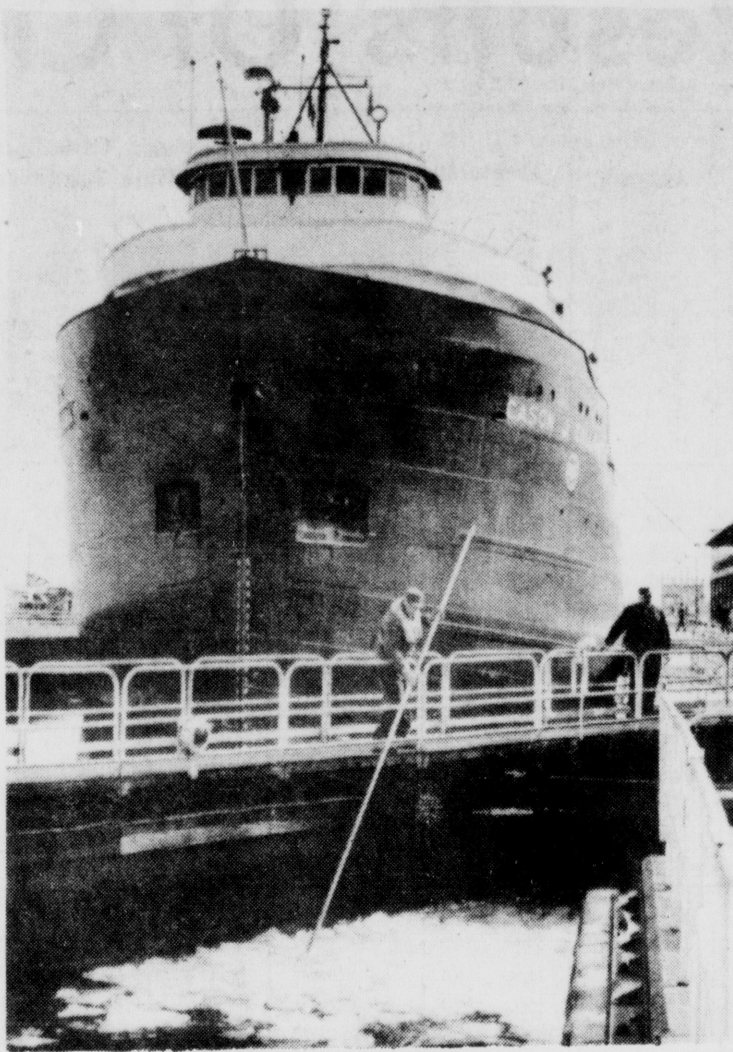

Grocery — This catch-all group includes most of the non-perishables sold in the food store. You can't make meaningful comparisons as to dollar value and total units sold.

WHERE DO YOU FIT IN?

How you live and where you live make a difference in your food spending patterns. For example: Small families spend more money per person and on food away from home than large families do. Young families buy 25 per cent more cookies and 20 per cent more cereal than older families. They're the biggest buyers of apples. Small town food shoppers buy more baking supplies than city shoppers. They also spend less of their food dollar on meat and a larger share on groceries than urban dwellers.

BE LABEL-WISE

All canned hams are "fully cooked." All are safe to eat without further heating. But not all canned hams are "fully processed." Some must be refrigerated, even if they're unopened. Look for label words — "perishable," "keep under refrigeration," or "needs no refrigeration." Naturally, all canned hams must be refrigerated after opening. If you want a smoked, canned ham, look for the "smoked" on the label.

Before the Calloway could lock through, lock employees had to clear ice away from gates. (UPI)

Tells Her Experiences In Holland

Payments For Crop Damages

Miss Lois DeMott, Smith-Cotton senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon DeMott, Route 1, Sedalia, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon. Miss DeMott spoke on her experiences in Holland last summer when she was an American Field Service student, sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

She reviewed her ship passage to Holland, meeting her "family," and staying with them during the summer. She told of a "normal" day for Holland which included working very hard in the morning on the farm, and in the afternoon enjoying leisure when she and her "sister" would go to the river and swim and lie on the banks and read.

During the trip over the students studied and learned as much of the language as possible. She told the students staying together the last five days of their visit to Holland to prepare themselves so when they returned home they would not be "frustrated." "We flew back from Holland when we learned our ship had been condemned and it would not return to the U.S. The first two hours of the trip we spent in serious talking and the last two crying," she said.

Slide pictures which she had taken during her stay were shown.

Miss DeMott, it was announced, has been chosen to make a three-week trip this summer to Italy, where 10,000 AFS students will take over a whole town for a two-week stay for a World Conference. Her mother will accompany her. They expect to go to Holland the third week to revisit her "Holland family" so they can meet her mother.

John B. Ellison, program chairman, introduced Miss DeMott.

Guests at the meeting were Rev. Clyde D. Foltz, of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Tex., who is a guest minister this week at the First Christian Church. He was introduced by Rev. Harry Purviance. George Stohr, member of the Southwest Lions Club, was the guest of W. O. Hiatt, at which time he announced the Southwest Lions will serve Easter dinner at LeRoy's from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Easter Sunday.

Hiatt announced the coming United Fund banquet to be held at the Smith-Cotton high school cafeteria, April 9.

Gene Gregory, convention chairman, announced the State Convention to be held in Kansas City on May 17 through the 19, and listed delegates.

President Addison Taylor presided and announced the board meeting for the club would be held April 10 at his home.

Deadline On Reseal Of Crops

Growers who are interested in the resale price-support loan program as it applies to eligible 1967 crops stored in commercial warehouses have an important deadline approaching, according to Samuel Hieronymus, chairman, Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The 1967 crops eligible for resale include wheat, corn, barley, oats, grain sorghum, and soybeans.

Reseal loans on farm-stored crops have been in operation in certain areas for a number of years, the chairman explained, so growers are well acquainted with the way the program works. But resale on crops stored in commercial warehouses is being made available for the first time this year, so it is particularly important that farmers understand that there is a deadline for them to give notice about resale intentions.

"We don't want producers disappointed at not being able to resale crops in warehouse storage because they waited until too late to file the necessary request," Hieronymus said. "We are therefore notifying producers now to file a written request for extension of loans on warehouse-stored 1967 crops before the original maturity date."

"If a request for extension of a warehouse loan is not received, the loan will mature on the original loan maturity date and the government will take title to the crop which is under loan."

April 30 is the loan maturity date for wheat, oats, and barley. July 31 is the maturity date for corn, grain sorghum, and soybeans.

Miss Lois DeMott, Smith-Cotton senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon DeMott, Route 1, Sedalia, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon. Miss DeMott spoke on her experiences in Holland last summer when she was an American Field Service student, sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

The figures do not include the $1,300,000 payments reported under the government crop insurance program.

Payments varied from $12,863 for the destruction of one farmer's crops near Hornersville, Dunklin County, in the Bootheel, to less than $100 for numerous lightly damaged fields at the fringes of hailstorms. Practically every section of the state was hit, Stapel said.

Total indemnity payments of $1,966,936 are based on official statements of both mutual and stock companies writing crop hail and fire insurance in Missouri in 1967.

One of the most damaging storms struck the Dexter vicinity in Stoddard County on April 23, covering an area approximately 30 miles long and 16 miles wide. Another series of severe storms hit on May 11, 12 and 13 in the southeast cotton growing counties of Dunklin and Pemiscot.

Hailstones the size of golf balls driven by high winds ruined wheat, corn, soybean and cotton crops. Hailstones covered the ground in some places to a depth of six inches or more.

Claim reports listed 107 days on which hail occurred in Missouri in 1967. The first storm was reported April 21 and the last one October 24, though another storm is known to have dropped considerable hail in early November.

The Missouri farmer customarily insures his corn crop for $50 to $100 per acre, his cotton for up to $150 per acre. Loss payments are based on the percentage of damage scientifically arrived at by trained adjusters. The company then pays the loss promptly after the losses are adjusted.

Seek Domestic Work

The Pettis County R-V PTA met March 18 at the R-V Elementary school.

The Rev. Roy Dameron gave the devotion. Mrs. Bill Reid conducted the meeting in absence of the president, Noah Killian, safety program leader, introduced Sgt. R. W. Bruce of the State Highway Patrol. He explained several recent changes in traffic laws and answered questions.

The officers for the coming year are: L. L. Hand, president; Mrs. W. F. Rife, vice-president; Mrs. Art Martin, secretary; Mrs. John Leftwich, treasurer. The Houstonia Betterment Club had a "Keep America Beautiful" contest with grade students making posters. William S. Spears presented the awards to the winners of each grade. The posters were on display in the cafeteria.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Clarksburg Vote On Gas Franchise

Clarksburg voters will cast their ballots in a special election on April 16 to decide whether the Gas Service Co. may continue its franchise to furnish gas to the community.

Voters in the north ward will vote at the Masonic Lodge. South ward voters will cast their ballots at city hall.

The proposition would give the gas company another 20-year franchise. The Gas Service Co. has furnished gas to Clarksburg for many years.

Top Show Pre-Empted By Special

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Company, along among the networks, pre-empted a prime-time program on Wednesday evening for a half-hour news special evaluating the response of Hanoi to the American moves to start peace talks.

The reported willingness of the North Vietnamese to talk about the problem came at the end of 72 hours of domestic drama and crisis. So the program performed a real public service. It presented George W. Ball, former State Department official, and assorted senators, all recommending a go-slow attitude. Ball said in a matter-of-fact way that the Hanoi response represented in his view, merely "some movement" in a sluggish situation, and cautiously offered hope that it was "the beginning of a process" that might eventually lead to peace.

Important events have tumbled over each other with such rapidity in recent days that one reacted with extra amusement to Dick Cavett Wednesday morning as he opened his new ABC variety-conversation show by remarking: "I haven't seen the papers yet this morning. Have any more presidential candidates quit?"

Cavett, whose show is not much more than a month old, is the new "in" comedian and is a bright, funny young man appearing in a daily program that, unfortunately, can rarely be seen by many of the people who would enjoy it most.

However, a lot of people can watch TV from 10:30 a.m. until noon, and this includes a number of show business folk who have done a lot of talking about it. The talk has already led ABC to change the name of the show from "This Morning" to the "Dick Cavett Show." It took even Jack Paar years to achieve that kind of star billing.

Owen Is President Of Debate Society

P. John Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, 823 West Sixth, a student at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., was elected president of the University Philodemic Societies on April 1, to serve for the year 1968-69. He is the 139th president.

This is the oldest continuous college debating society in the Nation, founded 139 years ago the develop proficiency in speaking abilities among students. The society in recent years has established unparalleled nation-wide reputation for itself. With the introduction of tournament debating the philodemic has continued the tradition.

John, a history major, is on the Dean's honor roll. He is a 1965 Smith-Cotton graduate.

viewed actor Eli Wallach, who told his host that the theater in which the TV show was shot was once owned by actor Walter Hampden.

"Hampden was involved in a legal disagreement with the Shuberts," Wallach said, and Cavett's eyes traveled beyond the camera's range.

"From the looks of things here, he lost the suit," Cavett remarked and Wallach dropped the subject.

Later Cavett discussed current attempts to replace humans with computers in theater box offices.

"The only thing they haven't been able to teach the computer—yet—is to be rude," he said and the New York studio audience roared.

His spontaneous and quick responses make the show a special joy, and it does seem to be a waste of talent to keep Cavett in a morning spot instead of a late afternoon or late evening time when his logical audience would be around the set to enjoy him.

LBJ's Decision May Not Break Up the Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election isn't likely to break the congressional stalemate over much of his legislative program.

But in his Sunday night speech to the nation he might have breathed new life into his tax-increase proposal by making clear he would accept spending cuts in his budget.

That was the consensus of veteran Congress members as they took a new look at the picture Monday.

Their reasoning was based on the political logic that if an incumbent President who is likely to remain in power four more years couldn't get Congress moving, an outgoing executive would have less influence.

Senators and congressmen seeking re-election—and most of them are—no longer need fear possible political reprisals if they don't respond to White House pressures. The famed LBJ arm-twisting approach lost its firm grip with the President's decision not to seek another term.

Neither can the President hold out the promise of political rewards to the faithful for four more years if he leaves the White House next January.

"The President has scuttled his legislative program," one veteran House member commented.

"We will, in effect, be in a long period of 'lame duck' status," said Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex. "At this critical juncture in our history, we cannot afford a period of diminished influence from the White House."

This "diminished influence" has been apparent since Democrats lost so many seats in the 1966 House elections. While Johnson's domestic programs once flew through a cooperative Congress, they have difficulty keeping alive now.

Pending White House requests to project some programs into the future—for five years in some cases—aren't likely to be granted. One-year extensions may be the new order.

The major Johnson proposal most likely to be boosted on Capitol Hill is his request for a tax increase to cut down the federal deficit.

The House has blocked action on this, contending the President first should cut government spending.

Supporters of the proposal have tried to push it through the Senate and a vote on it was due in the Senate today.

In his Sunday night speech, Johnson said he expected Congress to cut his budget and indicated he would accept such action in exchange for passage of a tax bill—a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., whose House Ways and Means Committee has kept the income-tax boost on the shelf, labeled the President's comments as "clearly a step toward the kind of compromise we have all been talking about."

But another top Johnson proposal, an open-housing civil rights measure, may be in deeper trouble than it had been.

Before Sunday's announcement, House leaders weren't sure they could get enough votes to clear the Senate-passed measure. They are less certain now that the President's influence has diminished.

Must Lose Complex

EASTPORT, Maine (AP)—Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis says Maine must break what he calls an "end of the line" complex that hampers its growth. "By the year 2000," the governor said at a dinner, "there will be 80 million persons living along the Eastern Seaboard between Norfolk, Va., and Portland. Unless we in Maine can work toward that time with commitment to meet this challenge, then we will remain at the end of the line."

Can Refuse To Sell To Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Private housing developers are free under federal law to refuse to sell homes to Negroes, a St. Louis lawyer told the Supreme Court today.

"I don't know of any law which gives anyone the right to buy property someone doesn't want to sell," Israel Trieman, lawyer for a suburban St. Louis builder, contended.

Joseph Lee Jones, a Negro bail bondsman, and the Justice Department have asked the court to bar developers of large subdivisions from refusing to sell to negroes.

Jones and his wife Barbara, who is White, were turned down by the Alfred H. Mayer Co. when they tried to buy a house in the Paddock Woods subdivision.

The couple and the justice department contend the refusal violated an 1866 civil rights law and the 14th amendment to the U.S. constitution.

Trieman, attorney for the Mayer firm, said the 1866 law prohibits discrimination only when the discrimination is rooted in state law. The 1866 reconstruction statute, he said, is not aimed at private action, and its sponsors did not intend to reach private action with it.

The 14th amendment, the lawyer said, comes into play when the state is fostering discrimination. For instance, he said, the city of St. Louis—or any city—could not refuse to complete a property sale because the prospective buyer is a Negro.

Paddock Woods, Trieman said in a private development and does not operate as a state agency.

Without a state or federal open housing law it cannot be required to sell home sites to Negroes, he concluded.

Tiger Load Waits For Elephant Truck

HEYWORTH, Ill. (AP)—A woman driving a truckload of tigers caused a small commotion in this town Tuesday when she reported her husband was lost with a truckful of elephants.

With visions of stray pachyderms plodding the roads, the county sheriff's department alerted all its units to start a search.

The husband with his load of three elephants found his way and showed up shortly. The couple, members of the Shrine Circus, continued on their way with the wife navigating this time.

Big Eight's Baseball Title Race Wide Open

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG,

Associated Press Sports Writer

Unheralded Nebraska had the best pre-season record but final results for Big Eight baseball teams touring the south and west with little success added up to another wide open championship race starting Friday.

Nebraska finished 3-2-1 in Texas with strong pitching by veteran left-handers Keith Winter and Al Furby. Sophomore Tom Tidball hit .375 and another rookie, Dana Stephenson .333 for the surprising Huskers.

The Huskers will have an early chance to shake up the forecasters as they play at Oklahoma, rated a strong hitting club with pitching problems.

Colorado was 3-3 for a six-game series in Hawaii; defending champ Oklahoma State 3-4 on a trip to Texas; Oklahoma 3-6 in Texas and Arizona; Missouri finished 2-5 in Texas; Iowa State 2-6 with victories over Northwestern and Minnesota; Kansas 2-7 after a rugged start in the potent Riverside, Calif., tourney; and Kansas State 2-9-1 in the South.

Missouri is at Colorado, K-State at Kansas and Oklahoma State at Iowa State in the other opening Friday-Saturday series.

The Big Eight's 20-42-2 pre-season record in the south doesn't mean the league is in for a bad year. That's par for the course, since most of their foes had played 15 games or more in the sun.

A better indication of league strength is its 65-39 record in the NCAA's College World Series, with eight finalists and three crowns in the past 17 years. By May and June, the Big Eight catches up.

Athletic Banquet Scheduled

The Smith-Cotton High School Spiz Club and Lettermen's Club will sponsor the annual Athletic Banquet Friday, April 5, at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This event is to honor all the athletic varsity lettermen (football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and tennis) and their coaches, as well as the pep club officers for the 1967-68 year.

Planning and decorating is done by the junior Spiz members as the theme is always kept a secret from the seniors.

"We are really excited about the theme this year," commented Sally Shoemaker, decorating chairman, "and we hope we can make the banquet a success for the seniors!"

Approximately 326 are expected to attend the banquet, including 60 faculty members and their guests.

Following a program of gift presentations and guest recognitions, a dance will be held in the S-C cafeteria to the music of the Wild Things from 8:30-11 p.m.

Dee Ellison, senior, is the president of the Spiz Club, while Dennis Boehne, senior, leads the Lettermen's Club.

Little League Schedules A Second Meeting

The night for Little League Baseball meeting, which was held at the Smith-Cotton High School the evening of April 2nd, did not draw a very large audience, as stated by W.L. Wood, Chairman of the Board.

However, another meeting is scheduled for Monday evening, April 8 at 8 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Cafeteria.

At this meeting Mr. Ralph W. Gray, Regional Director of Little League Baseball, Inc., Williamsport, Pennsylvania, will be present to answer the questions about Little League Baseball and to explain the facts, purposes and objectives.

This meeting is open to the general public, which is cordially invited to attend. The Little League Baseball program is a service to the youth of a community. The purpose of this meeting is to further acquaint the parents and others who are interested in Little League with the facts, purpose and objectives of the program.

Oklahoma's Rusty Disbro won the series opener at Texas, Arizona and Arizona State—ranked No. 1 nationally—but OU lost the rest. In recent games, however, Rick Raczkowski, 6-foot-4 junior college transfer with a good knuckle ball, looked good in relief. He may become a starter.

Nebraska pitchers threw three four-hitters and a five-hitter at Houston, NCAA runner-up last year, giving up six runs in those four games.

Colorado's talkative Taylor Toomey, tall lefty with an outstanding 1.48 earned run average for two years, had control troubles and lost twice in Hawaii, but is expected to come back strong. Outfielder Lloyd Hutchinson, catcher Bob Anderson and pitcher-first baseman Dan Ruth got some big hits.

Stanley Cup Chase Underway

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The chase for the Stanley Cup, hockey's most cherished piece of hardware, begins tonight at four National Hockey League sites.

The Chicago Black Hawks, who finished a stumbling fourth in the NHL's East Division, play the second place Rangers at New York and East champion Montreal hosts third place Boston.

In the West Division playoffs, St. Louis, which finished third, visits champion Philadelphia and second place Los Angeles entertains Minnesota, which finished fourth.

All series are best-of-seven games.

Last year's Cup champions, the Toronto Maple Leafs, finished fifth in the East Division and did not qualify for the playoffs.

And the Black Hawks, last year's regular season champions, entered the Cup showdown with a host of problems, among them a six-game winless streak in the final two weeks of the regular season which slid them from second to fourth place.

Then there are injuries. Scoring champion Stan Mikita was a doubtful starter for tonight's opening game because of a back injury and Bobby Hull and Denis DeJordy also were nursing bruises.

Emile Francis, coach of the Rangers, said he expected Jim Neilson, the husky defenseman who has been nursing two bruised knees, to be ready. He also was expecting to see Mikita and Hull in action for Chicago.

"I don't doubt that they're hurting," said Francis, "but I know those two. They'll be here even if they have to play in wheelchairs."

Boston's hustling Bruins—most of them with no prior Stanley Cup experience—are decided underdogs to Montreal but Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake wasn't so sure.

"I've been in enough playoffs to know anything can happen," said Blake, who has led the Canadiens to seven Stanley Cups in 13 seasons.

In the new West Division, Philadelphia goes with young Bernie Parent in goal against St. Louis and veteran Glenn Hall.

Doug Favell, Philadelphia's other goalie, is sidelined with an infected throat.

George Dugan Is Medalist At Eldon

Coach Foster McGuire's Smith-Cotton High School Varsity Golf Team traveled to Eldon Monday, April 1, for a nine-hole match of medalist play. George Dugan, S-C senior, and Eldon's Harry Harvey secured one-round scores of 39, thus splitting medalist honors.

Three members of the five-man team defeated their opponents, as Dugan downed Clark of Eldon with a score of 39-45; Rusty Johnson, S-C senior, defeated Clark with a 41-54 score; and Bill Woolery, junior won over Jesse of Eldon tallying 40-53.

Monday, April 8, the "B" Golf Team travels to Clinton for tournament competition.

Missouri needs pitching to go the series opener at Texas, Arizona and Arizona State.

K-State hit 10 home runs, three by Jack Woolsey, in 12 games down south. Van Bullock and Nick Horner led the erratic pitching. Junior Riggins is hitting .432 and Randy Cordill .370 for Kansas, but pitching is below expectations.

Oklahoma State has the pitching for another crown—the only question is the hitting. Sophomore Bob Richardson pitched a no-hitter against Houston. Veteran Bill Dobbs has looked solid. Coach Chet Bryan, said "I must admit, this team has the best attitude of any team I've coached at OSU."

S-C Track Teams Are Defeated

Detroit May Take Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The best bet in the American League is that the Boston Red Sox will not repeat The Impossible Dream in 1968.

Everybody needs somebody somewhere. As a result the race could very well come down to the last day again.

Detroit needs a bullpen. Baltimore still has arm problems. Chicago always is short of runs. Minnesota has problems at shortstop and is concerned about Jim Kaat's arm. California still has to carry a full head of steam for an entire season.

Detroit appears to have the best chance of making it all the way.

The Tigers haven't won since 1945 and just missed by one game last fall. They have solid front-line hitting and formidable front-line pitching. An injury to catcher Bill Freehan or outfielder Al Kaline could kill them but the loss of key players would derail any of the other contenders, too.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. Detroit
2. Baltimore
3. Chicago
4. Minnesota
5. California
6. Boston
7. Cleveland
8. New York
9. Washington
10. Oakland

Mayo Smith's Tigers can throw good, if not spectacular, pitching at you every day with Mickey Lolich, Joe Sparna, Earl Wilson and Denny McLain in rotation.

The power of Kaline, Freehan, Willie Horton, Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe should provide enough margin to overcome late inning letdowns by the relief corps.

Actually, the bullpen may be better with the addition of Denny Ribant and some young arms from the farm system.

Baltimore has a real solid ball club all the way, except for that pitching department where Hank Bauer already has been having problems. The Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, and Boog Powell and Curt Blefary, swing heavy bats that could take it all if the pitching holds up.

Eddie Stanky added a proven hitter in Tommy Davis but it still will be up to pitchers like Joe Horlen, Gary Peters and Tommy John, plus that great bullpen headed by Hoyt Wilhelm, to do the job.

The Twins' chances were hurt by Kaat's slowness in coming around after that elbow injury in late season. The left side of the infield is questionable although Cesar Tovar is available to plug any and all gaps.

California must get a super effort from Rick Reichardt and another big year from relief ace Minnie Rojas to stay in contention.

In addition to Lonborg's slow recovery from knee surgery, the Red Sox have to worry about the weak hitting by Tony Conigliaro during the spring. The young outfielder, coming off a serious head injury that kept him out of the World Series, now is in Boston for an examination.

Alvin Dark has his work cut out for him in Cleveland. If he can get maximum performance from his pitchers, especially Sam McDowell, he can make a stir.

Washington tore everybody apart in the South and may be underrated. Camilo Pascual is back on the beam and a couple of rookies have looked good.

The Yankees are worried about Al Downing's arm and have problems at short and third. Pitching should save them from the cellar and could be the factor to move them ahead of Washington. Mickey Mantle still is in there swinging.

Oakland's new scenery should pep up the A's but they have so many youngsters with limited experience that it will be tough to move up.

Combines TV Watching With Clothes Drying

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am a homemaker who works, so most of my housework is done at night. One of my chores, of course, is the laundry. Since this is usually being done while I am busy with something else, I sometimes forget to take the clothes out of the dryer and they become quite wrinkled before I remember them. To help me remember, I put the clothes in the dryer at the beginning of a half-hour television program and when the program is over I remove them from the dryer.—MRS. M. B.

DEAR POLLY—When pouring steaming hot liquid from macaroni or vegetables, run cold water in the sink to prevent steam burns.—DEBORAH

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—How do you remove the glass top from a bottle of perfume without breaking it? Mine has been opened before but now it is really stuck. I would appreciate some help.—MRS. O. W.

DEAR POLLY—To save time and soap, vacuum your curtains before laundering them.—MRS. P. J. B.

DEAR POLLY—Never throw away the Orlon muffs from ear muffs. These can be easily removed from the frame and make wonderful buffers for brass, copper or silver. The polishing job can be done much faster, as you have a buffer for each hand.—MRS. R. H. S.

DEAR POLLY—I have some suggestions for helping in the care of a patient sick at home. When giving a drink, wet the straw on both ends so it will not stick to the patient's lips.

When a number of different kinds of pills must be given, some tend to dissolve in the mouth, leaving a bitter taste and making it difficult for the patient to swallow. Buy empty capsules from the druggist, according to the size of such pills, and place each pill in a capsule. Check with the doctor so as to get his permission.

Keep a daily record of pills given, so no mistakes are made and so another person will have an accurate record, should you be absent for a time.—JOSEPHINE

An Unholy War to Get New Talent

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An unholy war to sign college players was under way in pro basketball today.

The 22-year-old National Basketball Association announced its first-round draft picks Wednesday with Westley Unseld, Tom Boerwinkle and Ron Williams among the top choices.

"I guess we have to enter into an unholy war of going after these players," declared George Mikan, commissioner of the rival one-year-old American Basketball Association.

Unseld, a 6-foot-8 two-time All-American at Louisville, was the No. 1 draft of the Baltimore Bullets in the NBA.

The Chicago Bulls chose the 7-foot Boerwinkle of Tennessee. Williams, 6-3 West Virginia star, was picked by the San Francisco Warriors.

None of the three has signed any contract. Each said they wanted to weigh all offers before deciding.

Unseld has been offered $500,000 over a four-year span to play with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA. Baltimore did not reveal its offer although Buddy Jeannette, general manager of the Bullets, declared, "We're going to leave no stone unturned to sign Unseld to an NBA contract."

Boerwinkle, the No. 1 pick of Denver in the ABA, currently is playing in the Olympic trials at Albuquerque, N.M. "We certainly don't want to do anything to upset Boerwinkle's chances of making the Olympic team," said Dick Klein, Chicago general manager. "As a result we have had no direct negotiations with the boy."

Williams, drafted by New Orleans of the ABA, said he would like to play with the Warriors. However, he plans to consult with Bucky Waters, his West Virginia coach, before making a decision.

The NBA did sign two of its top draft choices. Bill Hewitt, 6-6 Southern California star, signed a three-year contract with the Los Angeles Lakers. Bob Kauffman, 6-8 Little All-American from Guilford, N.C., College, also signed for three years with the Seattle SuperSonics.

The signings give the older NBA a 3-1 edge over the ABA. Elvin Hayes, Houston's All-American was signed last week by the San Diego Rockets for an estimated $440,000 for four years. The only player signed so far by the ABA is Wayne Chapman of Western Kentucky by the Kentucky Colonels.

The other No. 1 choices in the NBA draft were Don Smith, 6-8 of Iowa State by Cincinnati; Otto Moore, 6-11 of Pan American by Detroit; Charley Paulk, 6-8, of Northeastern Oklahoma by Milwaukee; Gary Gregor, 6-7 of South Carolina by Phoenix; Don Chaney, 6-5 of Houston by Boston; Skip Harlicka 6-1 of South Carolina by St. Louis; Shaler Halimon, 6-5 of Utah State by Philadelphia and Bill Hosket, 6-7 of Ohio State by New York.

The NBA first-round draft was conducted over the telephone Monday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Baseball Shutout Faces LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has his last chance to avoid a baseball shutout as the Washington Senators open the 1968 season Monday against Minnesota.

Johnson, now 0-3 and the only President still waiting for his first winner in baseball's annual opening day ritual, may pass up the opportunity and call on teammate Hubert H. Humphrey to throw the inaugural ball. The vice president's relief record is 0-1.

Not since the depression days of Herbert Hoover has the presidential pitching record been so impoverished. Hoover needed four tries to watch a winner as the Senators squeezed out a 1-0 victory in his final appearance in 1932. And even then it took 10 innings.

The White House is still silent on whether Johnson, who has announced he won't run for reelection, will make the traditional trip to the ballpark next week for his fourth try. His attendance is uncertain.

Humphrey, the ever-ebullient substitute, is No. 2 in this as well as other duties, although his pitching assignment could be complicated by the fact his baseball loyalties belong unabashedly to the Minnesota Twins.

The Senators, losers of five straight openers and thus responsible for Johnson's record, will be underdogs again next week against the Twins, who came within a game of winning the 1967 American League Pennant.

In recent years, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once skipped an opener to play golf, leads his colleagues at 4-3. Franklin D. Roosevelt finished 4-4. Harry S. Truman bowed out at 3-4 and John F. Kennedy, like Johnson the victim of the expansion era Senators, was 1-2.

'Crummies' Disappear

By DON REEDER
AP Business Writer
KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The crummie isn't any more. "Crummie" is one version of railroad's slang for caboose—also called a way car, ape wagon, louse cage or bouncer. But the only resemblance between the old caboose and the one used today by the Santa Fe Railway is that both are red. The Santa Fe has spent more than $4 million remodeling 355 cabooses in its Wichita, Kan., shops. They're new from the wheels up. Freight train conductors and rear brakemen nap in Pullman-style beds, are warmed by modern oil burners, have the use of a refrigerator and electric lights have replaced kerosene lanterns. Crewmen can slide foam rubber chairs along rails to obtain a clear view of the train through safety glass windows, and the chairs even come equipped with safety belts and four-position foot rests. The Santa Fe, of course, doesn't throw $4 million around without giving it some thought. Until recently each freight train conductor had his own caboose. When he was assigned to a run, his caboose had to be located and hooked on to the train. A conductor would no more think of taking another man's caboose than wearing somebody else's pants.

Crewmen were responsible for cleaning their own caboose, and keeping it stocked with coal, water and other supplies. "Some of them kept their way car as clean as a pin," said Gerald Becker, assistant superintendent of the Santa Fe's Argentine Yards here.

"Others weren't fit for a respectable pig." Since freight train crews only work specified distances on a run, cabooses had to be switched each time the crew changed — four times between Chicago and Kansas City alone. The time spent unhooking, finding and linking up new cabooses meant money down the drain for the railroad. Now the cabooses are changed only at four locations on the Santa Fe—at Chicago, Kansas

City, Belen, N.M., and Los Angeles. Train crews have been relieved of all maintenance and supply duties for the cabooses. Ambulance Serv. TA 6-8000

Mission Hills Farm Has Become College Campus

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — The cows which formerly populated Mission Hills farm at the east edge of Joplin wouldn't recognize their former home today. The 230 acres which comprised the F. C. Wallower family's Mission Hills farm is now the campus of Missouri Southern College, and the barn which once housed prize cattle is now the home of the college drama department. Aptly named the Barn Theater, the interior of the barn has been completely remodeled for the specific needs of the theater. The new interior was planned by Milton W. Brietzke, professor of speech and drama, and Duane Hunt, instructor in speech and drama. Bob Newman, a former student now attending the Kansas City Art Institute, drew up many of the designs. Renovation began in the spring of 1966 and was far enough along in October, 1967, to open with a major production.

Work on the building was done with a limited budget and carried out mainly by students and the college maintenance crew with the help of two carpenters. Stalls were torn out and a new floor was poured by a cement company. Planners evaluated the space according to needs of the group, and allocated all available space to activities felt to be most necessary.

The ground floor now contains an attractive lobby with ticket booth and rest rooms; a costume design room and large cedar wardrobe closet, which also doubles as a classroom; a storage room for lighting equipment, temporarily serving as an office; a classroom and prop storage room; and two dressing rooms and cast rest rooms.

The loft of the barn was remodeled for the stage and auditorium, with a tool storage room fitted snugly below the control booth. A three-way intercom system serves backstage, the ticket booth, and the dressing rooms, where the show can be heard by cast and crew.

The auditorium, with a capacity of 160, is designed with folding chairs and moveable stage lights so that theater-in-the-round may be staged.

When Joplin's first Fall Festival of the Arts was planned last year, the College Players decided to stage "Anna Karenina." The Russian novel was adapted for the stage by Mrs. Milton Brietzke and Duane Hunt who combined narration, acting and dialogue, poetry and soliloquy in a form they call "Interpreter's Theater." The adapters currently are seeking a copyright and hope to publish their stage version of "Anna Karenina."

Before "Anna" was presented in October the Barn Theater was dedicated in a special ceremony by Dennis Weaver, a television actor and a Joplin native. "Anna" finished its run and by popular demand was revived early in November.

Two other major productions have been staged by the College Players in the Barn Theater. "The Menaechmi" a Roman comedy by Plautus, was staged in-the-round in December. A recent production was Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

The theater plans a touring version of "Finian's Rainbow" May 6-11. Fifteen members will present this play in Labrador, Iceland, Greenland and Newfoundland on a USO-American Educational Theater Association tour in August.
